the haf product care

be accountable for your actions

Please remember,
it is our responsibility to nurture the items we possess.

*Like a newborn child, it is ours to protect,
to care for and grow old with.*

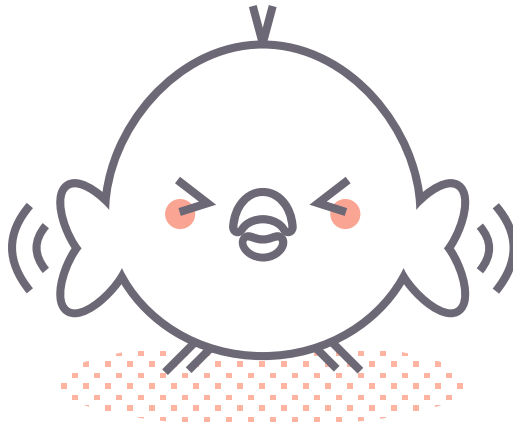

We brought these articles into our life for a reason;
whether out of need or it evoked an emotion,
we must be mindful of how we treat them.

hi!

feed me!

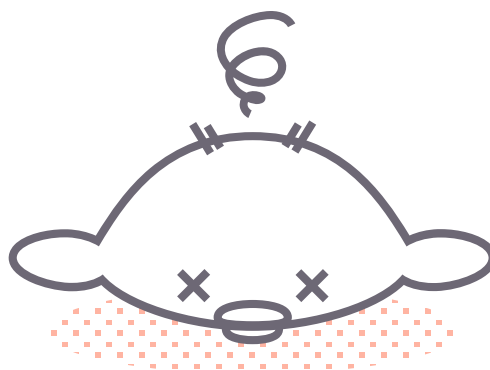

hungry!

give me
attention!

don't forget me!

ZZZ ...

We cannot neglect them.
We cannot let them hurt nor suffer.

— As your Haf shelf becomes a part of your home, you may discover each pair of arms turns into a hanger for your clothes.

— Overtime, your hangers will pine for your attention to wear the clothes you hung on them. It does this by slightly flapping its arms as you pass by.

— If you neglect any of the clothes on the hangers for too long, the hanger will collapse out of a broken heart.

— The hanger will remain locked in the shelf position, never to be hurt again.

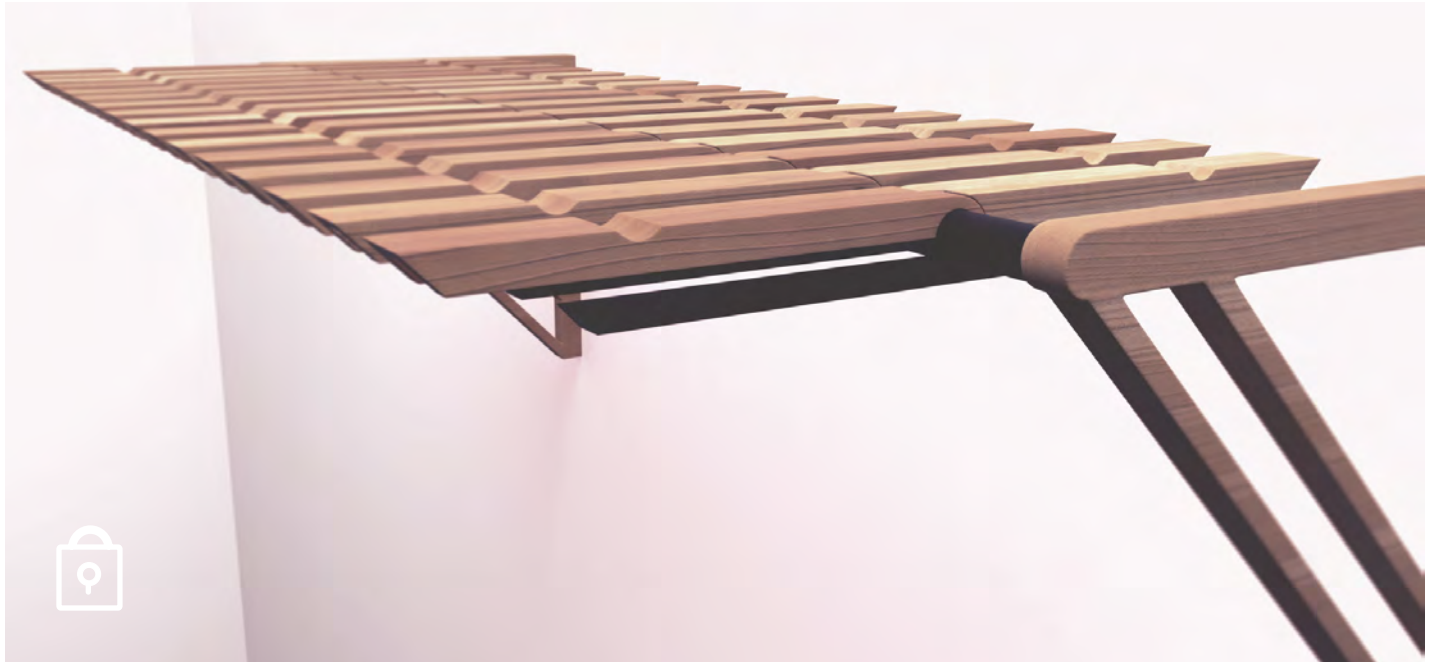

I should've given
you more attention...

*Reckless decisions
can be permanent.*

*Learn to control
expenses and live
through purity.*

it is time to be more mindful of your closet clutter; rethink what truly makes you smile.

we hope you form a stronger relationship with your closet.

happiness is within reach.

will you attend to its needs?

we hope the harumini
